Summary: I've decided to leave the site for various reasons that you will find in the 'chapter' itself.

My Goodbye To Fanfiction

To all my readers.

I regret to inform that as of today at 3:00pm Eastern Time...I will be leaving fanfiction . net

It nothing against all of you, you are amazing fans but due to recent events with the site forcing people to take down their stories under bullshit reasons just because some people have their panties in a wad...and further, I hate the upload process or that it takes about a million steps to post polls, stories, picture(which are limited)...Yeah I'm just not dealing with it. So, I have decided to follow ShadowSpirit020 to Wattpad and Archive Of Our Own. All my stories are up there or about to be after today. So! My pen name remains the same.

On Wattpad you may find me as ** NightstarFury** or **Nightstar Fury**

On Archive Of Our Own, I am under** NightstarFury1**

For Wattpad, all my stories are up except Not What You Expected which I am going through and re-editing. As well a lot of the other stories have been added too so if you wanna see the changes, you'll have to read them all again!

For Archive Of Our Own; I have yet to do Dragon Master, Finding Yourself, and Not What You Expected still. So bare with me while I get them up. And they have more edits in them as the final piece of work because when I re-read my work, I find more to add!

I'm sorry for leaving so abruptly my friends and fans but I'm not dealing with the fact that on FF . Net you have to follow the steps Doc Manager, Upload, Manage Stories, Pick Story from list, Content/Chapters, Post New, then select the recently uploaded document and his save. And to god forbid it have to edit something you have to do doc manager, pick the doc, edit it, save it, manage stories, pick story, content/chapters, replace chapter, replace chapter content, pick document, then save it.

That and then uploading cover photos you are limited in the number you can use.

Wattpad and AO3(Archive Of Our Own) have a simple process for everything and I truly like them better so that is where I will be from now on. And once more, while uploading my stories to those sites. I have edited them and added more :p On that note, its been fun but enough is enough for me. Hope to see everyone soon!

Sincerely,

-Nightstar Fury from Nightstar Productions
